

I have joined the Presidents' Pledge Against Global Poverty because it expresses a commitment that I strongly endorse. We who have more than our share of resources can and should contribute to opportunities for those who have scant prospects. As the son of immigrant parents who now spends a lot of time in impoverished parts of our world, I feel this imperative acutely, and I am pleased to join with others in addressing it.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'George Rupp', with a stylized, cursive script.

George Rupp